LOOKS AS THOUGH WHOLE WEST WOULD DECLARE FOR WILSON

[By United Press]
CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Chairman McCormick of the Democratic National committee says that Wilson will get majorities in Illinois, Ohio, New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Delaware and West Virginia. This statement contradicts Frank Hitchcock's claims that all of these except Ohio are for Hughes. McCormick

Says Campaign of Woman's Party Will Do Nothing for Suffrage

The National American Woman's Suffrage Association is maintaining its non-partisan policy and taking no part, as an organization, in the present election, according to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, of New York, president of the association, in a letter to Mrs. George Bass, chairman of the Woman's Bureau of the Western Democratic Headquarters.

Mrs. Catt stated that the National American Woman's Suffrage Association represents without doubt ninety-five per cent of the organized suffragists of the country, and that its membership is composed of both democrats and republicans.

"The National Association is the organization which has lifted the suffrage movement to its present position of an issue in the political life of our nation," said Mrs. Catt. "It was our association which caused the introduction of a federal suffrage amendment into congress which it has consistently supported ever since."

"It earnestly desires the submission of a federal amendment, but it desires it on a non-partisan basis. It is entirely out of sympathy with the Woman's party theory that such an amendment can only be put through on a partisan basis. We recognize that no party has had a two-thirds majority in congress since the days of reconstruction and that no party is likely to have such a majority in the near future."

"Even though so phenomenal a thing should happen as a party in power controlling a two-thirds majority, the amendment must be ratified by thirty-six states, and some of these states will be sure to be governed by the opposing party. In referendum, too, we are obliged to appeal to the men of all parties for votes. Our position as non-partisans, therefore, we hold to be infinitely wiser more dignified, and safer than any other policy possibly can be."

"We hold the theory to be false which would put out of congress men who have been steadfast, tried friends of suffrage at home and in Washington, because members of their party from other and less enlightened sections of the country have not favored the federal amendment."

"The men from the states where women vote have usually been loyal to the suffrage cause in Washington as well as at home. Only two men from the suffrage states, and by chance one of these is a Republican from Idaho and the other a Democrat from California, oppose the federal amendment."

"We propose to maintain our friendly relations on non-partisan lines with all parties."

"The Code of Marcia Gray"—Grand Tonight

Tonight at the Grand Morosco-Paramount presents the famous English beauty, Constance Collier, the distinguished European actress, in "The Code of Marcia Gray," an engrossing drama of modern fashionable life, and frenzied finance, strong situations and swift action, truly an artistic triumph.

Filled with scenes of beautiful mansions, luxurious limousines, brilliant parties staged in magnificently furnished rooms of magnitude, beautiful gardens and all the tokens of great wealth "The Code of Marcia Gray" has a great interest outside of its big plot.

This Morosco film deals with the story of a man who was caught in the giant nippers of financial hazard. The jaws of the great fetich, "taking a chance," crushed him.

The wife Marcia, who is wrongly blamed by the husband she stands by, is portrayed by Constance Collier playing the starring parts and reflects her vast European stage experience. Also—Bray's Comedy Cartoon.

GERMANY WILL PROBABLY MAKE DISAVOWAL OF MARINA SINKING

Will Also Punish Commander If It Is Proven Vessel Was Sunk In Violation of Former Pledges -Details of Torpedoing Not Yet Received at Washington

[By United Press]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—German officials say that Germany will disavow her act and will make an offer to punish submarine commanders if it is proven that the Marina and Rowanmore were sunk in violation of Germany's pledges regarding submarine warfare.

Not Conclusive Yet

[By United Press]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Secretary Lansing says the official reports of the Marina sinking are not conclusive. The information at hand is not considered real evidence. It is not known if the vessel was torpedoed or sunk by gunfire. Other details are also missing. Lansing refused to say if the survivors had reported, only saying that he had not received the sworn affidavits. Copies of all information will be sent to President Wilson.

SOME OBSERVATIONS

The Carson News, Sam Platt's paper, this morning weakly apologizes for publishing the statement Sunday morning that Hon. Frank Norcross, chief justice of the Nevada Supreme court, attacked the Pittman land bill in a speech at Verdi Saturday night, and gives the excuse that what it said "was an unintentional error in either receiving or sending the message, and the article should have stated that the remarks on the land scheme were made by Mr. Morehouse."

The News by its apology may relieve itself from culpability, but it does not exonerate the senders of the message one whit, nor does it prove that there was an "error in receiving or sending the message," as the following extracts from the "message" testify.

The account in Sunday's News reads: "Judge Norcross entered fully into the question of the Pittman land grant and every point that he made against the measure evoked the heartiest applause. He warned his audience of the dangers of the scheme," etc.

"Mr. Morehouse FOLLOWED with a general review of the campaign issues and an analysis of the dangers of the Pittman land bill from a different point of view."

Could anything be plainer than those two statements and was there a possible chance for an "unintentional error either in receiving or sending the message?" The purpose of the publication is too obvious and an attempted explanation on the part of the Republican press and managers only makes it worse for their candidates.

Under big head lines the Platt papers are making much of the fact that Hon. Pat McCarran is against the Pittman land bill. Well, that is nothing new, any more than that Hon. Frank H. Norcross, associate of Justice McCarran on the state Supreme bench, is for the bill. But both are of the opinion that the measure should not be a campaign measure; it is a matter that should be determined by the state and government. If it is a good thing, it is to be desired; if a poor thing, refuse the government's offer.

But in this connection it is one of the enigmas of the campaign that Ed Roberts, representative in congress from this state, sits supinely on the platform with Sam Platt while the latter abuses Pittman and describes the land bill as a measure that is dangerous and intended solely for the benefit of the big land owners and cattle barons and never opens his face in defense of the bill, when it is a well known fact that he, Roberts, was one of the most ardent supporters of the measure when it was before congress, and on more than one occasion spoke for its passage both before the land committees and on the floor of the house. To an observer it looks as though he had "received his orders."

Hughes Paper Concedes New York Progressives Will Go to Wilson

[Special to Sacramento Union]
NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The New York Telegram, the evening edition of the Herald, concedes in tonight's issue that Mr. Hughes' campaign managers have been literally stampeded by current political developments indicating President Wilson's re-election. One article is headed, "Republicans In Panic as Campaign Nears End," and says:

"Although every effort is being made to conceal the state of feeling that prevails at Republican national headquarters, it is known that the campaign managers are bordering on a panic, and so desperate do they feel today that they are at a loss as to which way to turn. This was the admission of one of the most active members of the Republican national campaign committee. Every preconceived arrangement for the closing of the campaign has had to be changed and the 'S. O. S.' signs that are coming in from every Republican state in the middle west have the campaign managers in despair."

The Evening Telegram also features another article, setting forth that at least one-third of the New York Progressive vote is for President Wilson. Upon this subject it says:

"That the majority of the Progressives in this state will vote for President Wilson, instead of for Charles E. Hughes, was the admission made today by one of the most prominent Progressives in the city working in the interest of Mr. Hughes. He said today that a canvass of all the enrolled Progressives in the state shows that the majority was for the president. The fact was a decided shock to him, he said, as he had no idea the percentage would be so large."

Christofferson Is Fatally Injured

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., Oct. 31.—Silas Christofferson, aviator, was killed at noon today when an aeroplane he was testing fell a hundred feet. The machine was of the tractor type being made for the Allies. Christofferson was conducting an aviation school and had an aeroplane factory here.
